

Survey about Monuments: Results

These are the answers to the questions in the POLS 1 survey about what to do with monuments and place names.

Attempts: 113 out of 113

Should confederate monuments such as statues honoring confederate soldiers be removed from public places?

| | | | |
|-----------------------------|----------------|------|--------------------------|
| Yes | 65 respondents | 58 % |  ✓ |
| No | 32 respondents | 28 % |  |
| Decline to state/No opinion | 16 respondents | 14 % |  |

Attempts: 113 out of 113

Should place names be changed if the name is now considered offensive?

| | | | |
|-----------------------------|----------------|------|--------------------------|
| Yes | 65 respondents | 58 % |  ✓ |
| No | 32 respondents | 28 % |  |
| Decline to state/No opinion | 16 respondents | 14 % |  |

Attempts: 113 out of 113

How should it be decided if a particular monument or place name should be changed?

| | | | |
|---|----------------|------|--------------------------|
| The national government should decide (on its own) | 10 respondents | 9 % |  ✓ |
| The state government should decide (on its own) | 8 respondents | 7 % |  |
| The local government should decide (on its own) | 11 respondents | 10 % |  |
| The people of a community should vote on whether to remove a monument or statue | 70 respondents | 62 % |  |
| None of the above. | 11 respondents | 10 % |  |
| Decline to state/No opinion | 3 respondents | 3 % |  |