Steps:

- 1) The link to the Center for Practical and Professional Ethics does not currently link to the calendar. You may stop by the center (Mendocino Hall 3030) to see posted events. I will also send out announcements once they are posted. There will be at least 3-4 events during the semester.

- Links:

1) <https://www.csus.edu/center/practical-professional-ethics/current-upcoming-events.html>

2) <https://www.facebook.com/events/395094831179012/>

- 2) Choose an event to attend – or attend one that I announce.
- 3) Attend event (obviously)
- 4) Construct a reaction essay (maximum length 2 pages / minimum length 1 page) that answers the following questions and/or details the following:
 - o (a) Which event did you attend (date, time, name, speaker/s, location, etc.).
Note: If there is more than one speaker, please choose one of the speakers/subjects presented.
 - o (b) What was the subject of the event
 - o (c) What did you think of the material presented. Note: This is a reaction essay. No need to cite or conduct any outside research. Just tell me what you thought of the event and subject matter presented.

I will be attending most if not all of these events. You do not need to sign in at any event. Your essay will be your proof of attendance.

You are only allowed to complete one extra credit essay for this class.

Due Date: Any day prior to the final day of class. Note: The final exam will not be taken in class, so the final day of class is the class session prior to the final exam (see syllabus for specific date).

Points Possible: 15 Points based on how well you demonstrate that you thought about the subject.

Grading Rubric: Simple → did you address each of the questions I asked above. Yes, 15 points. No, 0 points.
