IT Careers @ Caltrans and State- Describe the IT Divisions, Hiring Process & Benefits
(Need to be completed in at least 100 words in order to get credit)

When it comes to Caltrans, there are many different IT divisions, like the Project and Management Division, Application Development and Support Division, Infrastructure Management Division, and the Security Services Division. Across, these divisions, there are many different responsibilities ranging from providing application development and support, managing IT infrastructure, to being responsible for security operations and digital forensics. The hiring process is a 5-step process where you must first create an account on the calcareers website, create an application template, search for a job, take an eligibility exam, and complete a statement of qualifications. Benefits include a stable balance between work and life, job security, many opportunities for career growth, and the possibility of retirement benefits.

I do not really have any suggestions for improvement of the lecture that was given at this time. I think it went really well, and I appreciate the use of videos that they had.
